(Amendment Disclosure) Notice Regarding Partial Postponement of the Effective Date of Changes to the Shareholder Benefit Plan

Adastria Co., Ltd. (the "Company") announced in disclosure titled "Notice Concerning Enhancement to the Shareholder Benefit Plan" ("initial disclosure") dated April 4, 2025. However, we decided to postpone the effective date of the "change the holding period requirements for the long-term shareholder benefit plan."

1. Details of the Partial Postponement of the Shareholder Benefit Plan Effective Date

We set the effective date with a record date of the end of February 2026 in the initial disclosure. However, regarding the "change the holding period requirements for the long-term shareholder benefit plan," we have decided to postpone the effective date to the record date at the end of February 2028, considering that some shareholders were not told of the change of long-term period when they purchased their shares.

There is no change and tier of shares held and benefit distribution will still be applied from the record date at the end of February 2026, as initially disclosed. The shareholder benefit vouchers will still be valid and will remain unchanged at one year.
